

Do you have a creative inclination? Are you thirsty for God? Do you want to learn how to connect with God creatively? How do you listen to or hear God's voice?

This Spiritual Retreat is for those who want to connect with God. Whether you are an artist or writer or just curious to try something new, we are all able to connect with God creatively. Students will be encouraged to create in the art of their choice -- painting, writing, photography, dance, etc. Instruction for watercolor and drawing will be provided for those who desire it. Coaching for the other painting mediums and writing will also be available. There will be solitude and group time in the schedule.

Comments from Participants:

“Julie and Sam,

Thank you so much for hosting a lovely, restful weekend at King's Fold. I feel like I did a lot of creating... poetry and journaling and art. Through that, God and I also did a lot of soul work. I really appreciate how you two tie both together so the act of creating becomes an act of worship and an act of healing....For ourselves and others.” - M. Bell, Participant

“Julie is a gentle teacher and can help anyone with experience in the arts, or someone who is just beginning to let art into their lives. Julie also writes poetry and songs and uses those as part of the weekend retreat to enhance the creative process. She teaches respectfully, knowing that we all are creative in some form or another, and that it is to God that our creativity is lifted first.”

- H. Seargeant, Participant

“Julie led us in learning about art as a language of the heart...We were led into a time of introspection and communing with God, then we expressed ourselves through art. Julie skillfully combined instruction about the skills and techniques of painting with times of heart-felt worship and sharing.” - Participant
